PROUD TO PROTECT
UK EMERGENCY SERVICES

 Any motorcyclist involved in a road traffic collision regardless of speed is at a greater risk of sustaining injury. The London Ambulance Service Motorcycle Response Unit put the safety and wellbeing of their riders first and foremost, this has led to the purchase of the Helite TT air vest modified for emergency service use. It offers far greater protection than standard jacket armour. It protects the thorax and spine from direct impact and supports the base of the helmet preventing neck injury through limiting hyper flexion or hyper extension of the neck, this greatly reduces the risk of not only minor injuries but life changing or life threatening injuries also. Wearable air bag technology for motorcyclists should be seen as the current gold standard in protection **
